Our Discontinued Story.

HE wandered in to buy some lands, along the Rio Grande; he planned to plant suburban lots and all was fine and dandy; he liked the business prospects fine, the climate made a hit; he heard about the brand new shops and had a joyful fit; he carried money in his jeans, his grip and in his trunk and when he saw the town he had he thought he'd leave a chunk of golden coin and send of bills quite large and very pretty to double up in real estate adjoining our fair city; he drew up plans of villas large and finely parked additions; on all his travels he'd found such promising conditions:
"Bout taxes," he asked a man, "what is the situation?"
"Every half hour," he said, replied, "they raise your valuation."

MERCHANTS WILL GET TOGETHER AT SUPPER

Planned to Bring All Members of Organization to Party at 50 Cents Per on November Nineteenth.

The Albuquerque Retail Merchants association has completed plans for a 50-cent dinner party to be given on the night of November 19th, probably at the Myers cafe, although this has not been decided definitely. It is proposed to have the dinner promptly at 7 o'clock when the merchants will be able to close their stores and to have an hour of conversation and business following about 50 cents worth of time in eating.

"We believe," said Secretary Bryant this morning, "that the dinner will be a great success. It was decided on last night at the meeting in the Commercial Club, and we hope to have the whole membership of the association on hand. We are assured we can obtain a first-class dinner for 50 cents and it will be in the nature of a get-together movement."

LITTLE DOING IN POLICE COURT THIS MORNING

Three prisoners faced Police Magistrate Craig at the morning session of court today. Pedro Chavez, charged with being drunk, admitted his guilt and was fined $5 or five days.

Juan Candelario y Santa Ana, arrested for being drunk and fighting, pleaded not guilty and his case was set for hearing at 2 this afternoon in order to allow the arresting officer to appear. Juan is not unknown to the police.

Edward Davis, a teamster, was picked up by a policeman last night on the charge of vagrancy. Edward pleaded guilty but the court released him upon his promise that he would get a job and go to work.

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN TIME OF TRAINS

New Winter Schedule Goes Into Effect on Santa Line Within Next Ten Days

Important changes in the time of the arrival and departure of trains at Albuquerque are to go into effect within the next ten days, according to unofficial announcement made here today. It will not be known just when the changes will take effect until the adjournment of the time table conference now in session at Tuleka.

According to today's announcement train 19, which now arrives at Albuquerque at 2 and leaves at 4:25 a. m., will in future arrive at 2:25 and leave for the east at 4 a. m., No. 19, the El Paso connection of No. 19, carrying the Denver sleeper, will reach here at 7:55 instead of 6 a. m. as at present. This train will leave El Paso at 8 in the evening instead of 7:55 as now.

No. 2, the tourist flyer, which now reaches Albuquerque at 3:55 and leaves at 4:05 p. m., will in future arrive at 2:15 p. m. and remain twenty-five minutes, the passengers taking dinner here.

Train 4, the eastbound California limited, will arrive at 6:40 instead of 5:25 p. m. as now, while No. 1, the westbound overland express, will reach Albuquerque at 8:45 and leave at 7:30. This train now arrives here at 7:25 and leaves for the west at 8:10.

So far as known no change will be made in the time of trains 3, 7 and 8, westbound, these trains arriving as now at 11:30 a. m., 10:10 and 11:30, respectively. The time of the daylight trains on the Rio Grande division and the trains on the Helen cut-off will also remain unchanged. It is said No. 8, eastbound, will also continue to arrive here at 8:55 and leave for the east upon the arrival of the Pecos valley train at 8:45 p. m.
